CLOUTED × SWEAT STRATEGIES

Paid media.

Campaigns that start as a test, prove themselves on the numbers, and only then get money behind them.

Best-in-class paid media.

We build the creative, buy the ads and read the data daily, for major-label artists and independents alike. Nine figures of streams, bought at somewhere between fourteen and twenty-four pence a listener.

Every campaign is measured on what it returned, not on impressions. That is the whole difference.

Most paid media is a bet placed with your money and settled with your money.

You back the track you love, spend what you can afford, and hope. When it doesn't work you've got no idea whether it was the song, the audience or the ads. So the next release starts from zero again.

$850 buys you an answer.

Before anybody asks you for a budget, we run the record against real audiences and find out what it does. Which cut of the song stops a scroll, which country reacts, what a listener costs.

If it's working, you scale it knowing the number. If it isn't, you've spent $850 instead of five thousand.

We'll tell you if it's not working.

Plenty of agencies will spend your money for as long as you'll keep giving it to them. We won't.

If a record isn't converting, we say so, and we say what we'd try instead.

You're not paying us to be optimistic. You're paying us for an answer.

Two numbers.

THE TEST CAMPAIGN

$850

Half of it is our fee, for the testing phase and the content we make for it. The other half goes straight into ad spend. One flat price to find out what the record does.

ONCE IT'S WORKING

of any further ad spend, as the management fee. No retainer, no minimum term. We earn more only when you've decided the record is worth pushing harder.

Ad spend is never marked up. Every dollar of it reaches the platforms and shows up in the reporting.

Everything else, on request.

The rates above cover the streaming campaign. A record that's working rarely stops there — tickets, merch, a fan capture flow, a full multi-channel rollout. Ask and we'll quote it per campaign.

SCALE IT

Winning creative, put behind budget across every channel that turns a listener into a fan. Priced on the spend.

OWN IT

Fan capture, tour and ticketing campaigns, merch. Quoted per campaign, on what it needs.

Ads rent your listeners. A fan capture flow means you own the audience instead.
